The long term objectives of the proposed studies are to understand the mechanisms responsible for tissue factor expression and expression of tissue factor-dependent cellular processes in the human endothelium. We hypothesize that the transcriptional mechanism for tissue factor expression is altered by growth factors, endotoxin and interleukin-1, which mediate their actions by binding to specific receptors. The specific aims of this proposal are: (1) To characterize the transcriptional regulation of tissue factor and tissue factor activity by growth factors and endotoxin; (1d6a3396d6

System Requirements:

You need a full-length head. This is an origami head that fits together by folding it in half on the long axis. I'm more of a shoe-shaped head person, but hey, this fit perfectly and it's not bad to have a box of stuff lying around. It will fit in your model car that has the head port. There is enough room to add stuff to the top of your model car. You need a transparent hot water bottle. This is the bottle that fits inside the body of the orig
