Its main purpose is to provide a gaming experience similar to its predecessor Candy Crush Soda Saga, one of the most popular games in this series. However, Candy Crush Saga does not require an internet connection to play, as its all the features are built-in the app. The way it works is simple: the player is provided with different types of colored candy, or well, "mints" in this case, and he or she has to match these candies in order to break them. This can be done by tapping them and achieving a series of three or more of the same color candies. The game is timed in order to see if the player can clear the whole board. To add some excitement, the player may find moving candies that are linked to each other, while his or her mission is to break the chain by matching only three candies at once. The results of the game are displayed on the screen along with the game's settings. In order to learn more about the gameplay of Candy Crush Saga, you can go through the game's Wikipedia page.
