Before playing FIFA 22, I was astonished to find that there was no motion capture data that I had collected from myself while playing FIFA 21 in FIFA's online challenges and making videos of games. Since I started doing motion capture after FIFA 14, I have been very excited to have the chance to share some of my experience with the official FIFA community! This will give FIFA fans around the world a chance to learn from my experience as a player and help them understand how motion capture data can be used to improve the gaming experience. From a young age, I have had a passion for football. I started taking piano lessons at age 10, but I didn't resume my football career until around age 13. I started playing football on a semi-professional level around age 14 and made the step to a professional level at age 18. I went on to represent the Hong Kong national team after that. I was the first midfielder to represent Hong Kong in a FIFA World Cup Finals and I was also the first Hong Konger to score a goal in the FIFA World Cup as well. I played in a UEFA Champions League final for the first time at age 22. My football career was always my priority and my dream of being a professional footballer has always driven me. The development of FIFA over the years has been incredibly impressive. As a footballer, I am used to seeing changes in the overall gameplay of FIFA, and my experience in this game has made me appreciate each and every change FIFA has made, such as the one-touch game system and the shooting mechanics. I would like to especially thank Sean Gorman, Takumi Minamoto and Sam Forrest for their active discussions and coaching sessions! Thank you so much for giving me this opportunity!

What's new in Fifa 22:

- New Commentary.

Crispy Chicken has returned to provide an authentic voice for FIFA 22's new commentary system. Crispy is best known for her tenure with the BBC World Service.

- Improved Set Piece.

FIFA 22 introduces a brand-new set piece mechanic: a contextual "2 on 1". When a free kick or corner kick is taken, the player with possession should now be able to break through and have a free shot at goal. This is an intuitive mechanic that adds a lot of strategic depth and variety to the set piece.

- New FIFA Boot

The boots in FIFA 22 are modeled on the popular Nike “Mercurial Vapour” ones, and have a lightweight design to allow players to run more freely with it. This boot is available in two different colors: grey and black. The design of the boot is really inspired by a number of iconic designs, like Adidas Predator and Real Madrid’s “Total 90”.

- New Player Ratings

FIFA 22 introduces four new player ratings based on the player’s playstyle: Impact (on both attack and defense); Agility (is a measure of how nimble a player is to change direction and make the right pass); Technique (measures a player’s ability to use the ball in the offensive or defensive phase); and Vision (deals with a player’s ability to take advantage of his teammates’ weaknesses or play perfect balls). These player ratings can now better reflect how each player has functioned in past versions of the game.

- Horse Teeth Assault Packs (HAPs)

These shirts look intimidating and are more difficult to dislodge during the offensive phase of a match. Players can now distinguish a Horse Tooth attacker and utilize tactics to intercept them during the action.

- Unbeatable Stance

This new player position-setting is activated when a player takes an incorrect (or dangerous) direction. If the player is not able to deviate, they will remain in the incorrect stance until the situation is better.

- Technical Skill Rating (TSR)

Players will get a TSR for attributes like receiving long passes (
