Party says they are hopeful to have the unions' proposals confirmed by the end of the hockey season. (PRNewsFoto/Saskatchewan Party) May 09, 2013 Media contacts: Provincial Relations Service Regina (306) 777-2497 john.maloni@gov.sk.ca The Saskatchewan government is hopeful that the unions' proposals will be finalized by the end of the hockey season. Saskatchewan Premier Brad Wall said in a news release that he has spoken with Premier Prentice about the proposals. He says the two have agreed that it is important to make significant progress in negotiations before the Pee Wee's hockey season ends. Wall says he expects to speak with the labour groups again within the next two weeks and believes that "if the Government can agree with all the groups, it should be able to present their proposals to the next negotiation date in June. "It's important for us to move this process as quickly as possible and I think the table is set for a positive outcome over the summer." Q: Improving time complexity This is the situation: A graph of N nodes is given and a subset of k nodes has to be selected. The problem is that choosing k nodes from the full graph can take a lot of time. What the algorithm should do is iterate through all nodes and for each of them test if they belong to the subset. For each node in the subset, the algorithm checks if the subset contains the whole node(s). If they are not, the node is added to the set to be removed. If they are, then the node is chosen and removed from the set. My problem is that when selecting the nodes the complexity is  $O(N^2)$ , but iterating through all nodes is  $O(N)$  and checking the condition (not(node in subset)), is  $O(1)$ . But for  $N > 1,000$  the sum of the running time is  $O(N^2)$  and  $O(N)$ . I think 1cdb36666d

Gast,.Pope Francis joked at the wedding of Archbishop Bernardito Auza and Patricia Licuanan, co-archbishop of the Diocese of MalacaÃdo, that he was there only as a guest, not as the Bishop of Rome. The wedding was celebrated Aug. 22 at the Archdiocesan Cathedral of Our Lady of Lourdes in MalacaÃdo. The event was attended by more than 600 guests, the majority of whom were priests and seminarians. "I'm an archbishop, not a pope. Whatever I say, the Pope says better," Francis said after dancing with the bridesmaids and kissing all the guests in the dressing room.

“His holiness, however, asked me to congratulate the bride and groom, who they said were ‘a beautiful couple,’” he said. He had invited the two of them, along with two dozen other Catholic couples. The archbishop, who was ordained in 1992, was named auxiliary bishop of the Archdiocese of Manila on Sept. 9, 2016. He was a priest in the Archdiocese of San Pablo in Manila from 2005 to 2010. A native of Cotabato, Auza, now 42, has worked in the archdiocese in different capacities since 1997. He is now the vicar general of the Archdiocese of Malacañdo. His father, Archbishop Jose Maria Auza, was the first Malacanang appointee to the post of bishop of the Diocese of Malacañdo. As a child, Patricia was a choir girl, and studied elementary and high school in Malacañdo. She then went to study in England and received a doctorate in jurisprudence from the Pontifical Lateran University in Rome. A devout Catholic, she is the parish patroness of Our Lady of Lourdes High School in Malacañdo. She was named co
